Please remember that in order to have the Board of Health investigate a complaint it is necessary to have it in writing, signed by the complainant, and mailed to the Board of Health.

All contagious diseases must be reported whether you have a doctor or not.

We greatly appreciate the co-operation you parents have given us during the past year.

Yours truly,

This year a state inspector informed the Selectmen that the fire department would have to vacate their housing quarters for number one truck in the Town Hall building. A special town meeting was called, and money was appropriated to build a new engine house located on Elm Street between the Public Library and the home of Mrs. G. Gillert. The new fire station will be started in the early spring.

Money was also appropriated to purchase a new aerial ladder truck. A committee comprised of the three Selectmen; William Roberts, Joseph Tatro, Napoleon Crapeau, three Engineers; William D. Horne, Joseph E. Army, Richard F. Gillert and Oscar Stowe and William Murphy, inspected the fire equipment in many towns and cities and decided to purchase a Seagrave aerial ladder truck. The truck will be delivered at the very earliest possible date.

Mr. Harry L. Meacham is architect for the new engine house and bids are now open for the construction.

Our fire loss was unusually low until the Ruskin fire on Elm Street, a loss of $15,000.00 on building and $7,500.00 on contents. This fire made the people of Millbury realize the necessity of an aerial ladder truck. The firemen are to be complimented for their heroic work done at this fire.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM D. HORNE,
JOSEPH E. ARMY,
RICHARD F. GILLERT,

Board of Fire Engineers.

REPORT OF THE FIRE WARDEN

This department consists of a Warden and five Deputies.

This year I was called to 47 brush fires, 27 grass fires and 3 dump fires.

Many brush fires are deliberately set by children, and could be avoided if parents would only cooperate and make the children realize the danger, seriousness and cost of extinguishing these fires.

For equipment I now have on hand 28, (2½) gallon acid extinguishers, 29 water pump cans, 10 rakes, 50 soda, $\frac{3}{4}$ car-boy acid.

Inspect all incinerators before the fire season starts as this is the cause of many grass fires which prove dangerous at times.

All open air and camp fires require a permit from the forest warden.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM D. HORNE,
Forest Warden.

Report of Highway Surveyor

Millbury, Mass., January 9, 1946.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

I hereby submit my annual report as Highway Surveyor for the year 1945.

As has been my practice in the past, I have endeavored to give to the Taxpayers of the Town a business like administration and have expended to the best of my ability my appropriation.

All roads have had attention and now every Public road is oiled which eliminates costly washouts. This in itself being a great saving to the Town. The year 1945 has been one of our severest years for storms and we have the pleasure of saying that not one road has been impassable at any time.

Much of the equipment owned by the Town should be replaced. It is either worn beyond repair or there are no parts available, due to the fact that this equipment is about twelve or fifteen years old.

We have been handicapped this past year by the shortage of experienced help, but now with the return from the Armed Forces of some of our former men we are looking forward to a more productive year of road building. This year we shall be able to purchase more road materials and equipment that we have not been able to during the War years, so this year I feel there should be an increase in the appropriations to repair and improve our permanent roads.

The Highway Department greatly appreciates the assistance and co-operation of all Town Officials.

Respectfully submitted,

LEVI J. CHASE,
Highway Surveyor,

Report of Millbury Public Library

To the Selectmen of the Town of Millbury:

We herewith submit our Annual Report for the year of 1945, including the Librarian's report which is as follows:

To the Trustees: I give you the following as my report as Librarian of the Millbury Public Library.

The Library has been open 267 days during the year. The books purchased during the year totaled 722. The classification of the circulation was as follows:

Fiction 25,785

Non-Fiction 2,576

Juvenile 7,560

Magazines 1,842

making a total circulation for the year of 37,763. During the year a large number of Non-Fiction books and a large map of Worcester County were added.

On June 12, a party was given at the Library for the children who had completed the reading of 20 books prescribed by the state. Large certificates were presented to 55 children at that time and 15 books were given as prizes to the children holding two large certificates.

Our branch Library at East Millbury School has been very successful; 300 books have been loaned to them during the year from the main Library.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the following organizations and individuals for the gifts that they have made to the Library during the year.

To the Singletary Rod and Gun Club for the books on sporting life given in "Memory of all those members of the Singletary Rod and Gun Club, Inc. who have made the supreme sacrifice that democracy in sportmanship might be perpetuated."

To the Home and Community Service Committee of the Millbury Grange for books of fiction presented in memory of their departed members.

To the Millbury Woman's Club for History of American Life in 12 volumes and for books of Non-Fiction.

To the Worcester Suburban Electric Co. for pictures of the World War II.

To Mrs. Charles Dana, Mrs. Morris Dana, Mrs. Fred Reid, Mrs. Hazen Bordeaux and Mrs. E. O. Angell for books of Fiction.

To Miss Mary Morse, of Chicago, a former resident of Millbury for the donation of $50.00 for the purchase of juvenile books and also to Marjorie McKie for juvenile books.

To Lt. Eugene A. DeRosier, Mrs. Harry Hull and Mr. Donald Perkins for books of Non-Fiction.

To Mrs. Ida Dockman for pamphlets on hygiene.

To Dr. E. O. Angell for magazines.

(Signed) LAURA E. PALETTA,

Librarian.

We, the Trustees, also wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the above donations.

The Main Library was redecorated during the year and it is hoped that extra funds may be obtained this year to redecorate and make over the lower hall into a library room for children through the eight grades. This would make possible a story telling and also give more room for the reference work and adult books which is much needed.

ARTHUR W. SNOW,

M. PEARL LACOUTURE,

DENNIS L. KELLIHER,

Trustees.

Report of School Committee

To the Citizens of Millbury:

Your School Committee submits herewith its annual report for the school year ending December 31, 1945.

During the war years, only those repairs which were absolutely essential were made because of Government restrictions. The intention of the Committee has been to inaugurate a rather extensive program of repairs and alterations as soon as Government restrictions would permit. With this plan in view, the Committee invited Mr. Harry L. Meacham to make a complete survey of all school buildings. The details of the excellent report which Mr. Meacham submitted to the Committee without compensation are contained in the report of the Superintendent of Schools. It would seem that, notwithstanding new Government regulations with regard to building construction, the long range program described in that report can be initiated this year. The regulations allow essential repairs, and our program calls for only the most essential repairs the first year. It is the hope of the Committee that in three or four years the complete program will find all our school buildings in excellent condition. The Committee feels that Mr. Meacham has rendered a distinct service to the town in voluntarily compiling this detailed and accurate report.

Eight teachers of the Millbury school staff entered the armed service during the war years. The return of these teachers gives us, together with all other school committees, the problem of re-arranging our program so as to give them the same positions they had before entering the service.

The detailed financial statements for the year follow:

Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee:

I respectfully submit my ninth annual report and the fifty-sixth in the series of reports of the Millbury School Superintendents.

Perhaps the most important event in educational circles in the past year has been the publication of the report of the Harvard University Committee of twelve appointed two years ago by President James H. Conant to examine the role that education can play in a democratic society. The title of the report is, "General Education in a Free Society." The report charges that in the past too much emphasis has been placed on trade and vocational subjects with the result that many of the students upon graduation from high school lack a cultural background. In order to remedy this defect it outlines a plan for the American high schools. It is interesting to compare this plan with our own high school curriculum.

The Harvard Committee proposes that of the sixteen units now commonly required for high school graduation, at least eight be taken in general subjects. Three units should be in English, three in science and mathematics, and two in social studies. It considers this the minimum and recommends that the students be required to take still another course in each of the three fields mentioned. Foreign languages are not set down as essential because the Committee, although it recognizes the necessity of foreign languages for college work, is convinced that they are far less necessary for young people who do not go beyond high school than music, the arts, English, or a study of American life. Even for those students who follow technical, trade, vocational, or commercial courses the Committee proposes that 50 to 75 per cent of their time be devoted to general education.

In our own High School we find that the recommendations of the Harvard Committee are already in effect. All students are required to have 4 units in English, 3 in science and mathematics, and 2 in social studies for graduation. All students have the extra courses in the same fields recommended by the Committee. In establishing and insisting upon these requirements we agree with the conclusion of the Harvard Committee that a common core of learning is essential for all citizens, regardless of their trade or profession. No change in our curriculum will be necessary as a result of this latest recommendation of educational authorities.

With the approval of the School Committee Mr. Harry L. Meacham, registered architect, made a complete survey of the physical condition of all the school buildings in Millbury. His report which was submitted to the School Committee recommended repairs amounting to the total of approximately $50,000. Some of these repairs such as fire screens, fire escapes, proper doors and exits, modern and sufficiently numerous toilets, are absolutely necessary according to the state building laws. Other repairs such as new heating units, exterior and interior painting, repairing plaster, replacing defective windows, installing approximately three hundred and fifty steel lockers in the high school, modernizing lighting systems, etc., are necessary in order to put the building in good condition.

It was the opinion of the School Committee that Mr. Meacham's survey gave an excellent picture of the present condition of our school property and of the work which must be accomplished in the next few years. It was decided to ask that the finance committee and the voters of the town be requested to appropriate each year for the next four years sufficient funds to carry out the program recommended by Mr. Meacham. Repairs necessary to comply with the state laws would be undertaken the first year. In the succeeding three years the project would be completed.

Horace Mann Pupils

This year the Horace Mann Honor Pupil System was inaugurated in our schools. At the December meeting of the School Committee the names of eight pupils who attained the average of 90 or better for two consecutive years were inscribed in the records of the meeting. The first Horace Mann pupils are:

Leone Budreau	Joan Shea
Ada Cowan	Marjorie Taylor
Gloria Goulet	Grace Welch
John Hayes	Anne Young

To all who have in any way assisted in the success of the past school year we extend our sincere thanks. Because of war conditions which prevailed throughout a great part of the year many difficult problems had to be solved and adjustments made. The fine cooperation of the parents and the loyalty and efficiency of our teachers contributed in a high degree to the solution of these problems. Especially do I wish to express my appreciation to the members of the School Committee whose advice and cooperation have been invaluable during the school year.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM D. SHEA,

Superintendent of Schools.

*Report of Mr. Stephen Beaton, Jr.
High School Principal*

At the beginning of this school year, the attendance in the high school was 335. This coincides with the attendance of the past three years, and there is every indication that, unless the town experiences a large building boom, the attendance will remain close to this figure for quite a few years to come. I base this statement on the fact that the attendance figures for the total load in our first eight grades show a difference of from 60 to 100 pupils from that which it did in the years from 1936 to 1940. As this difference is not peculiar to any one or two grades, but is spread out over all eight, it then becomes evident that, unless some influence occurs, other than that which is at present apparent, we cannot expect much of a raise in the high school population, beyond the present amount, for at least eight years.

In this immediate post-war period we find in secondary education a situation similar to that which is found in the social and economic world, namely; a state of inactivity, a watchful waiting to see just what is going to be the effect of World War II on our way of life. It is apparent, however, that if Millbury High School is to prepare our youth to meet the problems of tomorrow, we must measurably expand our program in two fields — Guidance and Vocational Training.

Dr. H. S. Broudy, director of graduate study at State Teachers College, North Adams, in his study of Massachusetts' youth and its needs, found that one of the major problems of our young people was the need of guidance — especially in knowing what to do about getting a job or further education. He also brought forth the following facts:

"Over one-third of the boys and nearly one-fourth of the girls were enrolled in the college curriculum, yet only 13% went on to schooling that required this particular type of academic training for admission.

"Nearly 19% were in the general curriculum.

"Fifty-six per cent of the girls and 29% of the boys were in the commercial curriculum.

"Less than 8% were in the domestic, industrial, or other vocational curricula."

Although these figures would not fit our particular school, they are near enough to bring out the fact that pupils, when choosing their course of study, give very little thought to their post-secondary needs. A great deal of this would be eliminated if a sound guidance program throughout all grades were set up.

The above facts from Dr. Broudy's study also point out the other need which I have already mentioned—Vocational Training. The college course offers vocational training to only about half of the pupils enrolled in it. The vocational training of the commercial course is also used by only about one-half of the pupils trained in it, and as for the general curriculum, very little can be said for its immediate vocational teaching value. Now as for a vocational curricula, it is simply non-existent in our school, and why? Because our facilities will not permit it. If we had these facilities, at least one-third of our student body would be enrolled in this curricula and would not have to waste a great amount of their time in courses not suited to their abilities and not preparing them for any particular future.

To quote Dr. Broudy one last time, "Vocational training does not in itself increase the number of available jobs, but it does help in competing for what jobs there are, and the less intelligent and the less educated the individual is, the more will the lack of specific training handicap him in this competition."

This fall we experienced quite a change in our faculty. We lost the valued services of Mrs. McCarron, and Miss Cassidy, who were military substitutes. Mrs. McCarron, who taught bookkeeping, office practice, and arithmetic, was replaced by a second military substitute, Miss Mary Marlborough, a former Millbury High School pupil and a graduate of Boston University. Miss Cassidy, a teacher of civics and history, was replaced by a Mr. Martin Roach, whom we welcome back after four years' service with the United States Army.

Millbury High School has again been approved in Class "A" by the Supervisor of Secondary Education, Mr. A. Russell Mack; and is on the approved list of the New England College Admissions Board until December 31, 1949.

The prizes, annually awarded on Class Day to the members of the senior class, were presented to the following students: Miss Mary Harris, the Washington-Lafayette Medal for the highest average in American History; Miss Virginia Lynch, the Citizenship Award given by the Daughters of the American Revolution; Miss Patricia May, the Becker Business College Scholarship Key; and Miss Frances Cowan, the Millbury Woman's Club Scholarship Award of one hundred dollars. The following pupils received the Millbury High School Athletic Association Award: Miss Virginia Lynch, Richard Brady and Roland Shepard.

Plans are now being made for the full time resumption of our club activities, and the addition of at least one club, the Science Club, is anticipated. Although most of our club work has, by necessity, been abbreviated during the war period, such organizations as the Junior Red Cross under the able guidance of Mrs. Harris Rice, and the Dramatic Club under the inspiring leadership of Miss Cassidy have done very fine work during the past year. Our teachers and pupils have most graciously and successfully given of their time in the various bond drives and patriotic endeavors during the past year.

Our athletic teams, both boys and girls, enjoyed successful seasons. The boys' basketball team, under the able coaching of Mr. Sherry, had a very successful season, winning the Blackstone Valley High School Basketball League for its second such victory in two years.

The attendance for the past school year was again over the 95 per cent mark, which is in no small measure a reflection of the interest of the parents, and for which we are very grateful.

Report of Miss Mary Sullivan, Supervisor of Physical Education

The fundamental requirements for a good physical education program includes a large, high ceilinged room with a sound floor, and a level piece of clear land for a playground near enough to the school for outdoor classes.

At present, Millbury High School lacks both these requirements; the so-called "gym" has a lower ceiling than most of the classrooms, and in addition two ventilator shafts cut the height three or four feet at either end; the school yard is hopelessly uneven and not large enough for any kind of a ball game. According to the best standards of physical education, classes should be taught out-of-doors whenever the weather permits, and even in New England, that amounts to at least half of the school year.

Here is our present program. When the girls enter Junior High, they begin a six-year program of physical education which is a required course for every girl unless she presents a doctor's excuse.

They meet once a week for one forty-minute period and when the girls reach High School, they don gym suits and find their gym classes much more strenuous than their Junior High periods. In addition, they have the extra-curricular sports of Field Hockey, Basketball and intra-mural Softball which was offered for the first time last spring.

In the elementary grades, a good deal of time is spent examining the posture of each child and assigning corrective exercises when needed. On each visit, exercises for general body development are given and simple games are taught. When the weather permits, the classes are taken outdoors; otherwise, they are held in the classroom which, of course, limits the activity a great deal.

If arrangements could be made for an adequate playground near the High School, it would mean a big improvement in our program.

Report of Miss Rose M. Massei, Supervisor of Home Economics

Sewing is started in the seventh grade of the Junior High School. In this grade the girls are taught very simple, everyday stitches, which they are apt to need and use all through life. In order to make the learning more interesting they construct sewing bags, pincushions and needle cases. Later on, work on the sewing machine is started with emphasis being placed on knowing how to take care of it as well as actually running it. Equally important as the learning of stitches, is the forming of habits of neatness and cleanliness which are the backbone of all home economics subjects.

Sewing in the eighth grade is done entirely by machine. The work is necessarily slow as we have only three machines and with a class of twenty or more girls, they do not always get a chance to use them. After making a series of seams and small finishes, to be used later on, time is taken to learn how to use and alter a commercial pattern. Lingerie and a simple summer dress are made in this grade thereby giving them the opportunity to select their material and color and also fitting themselves.

Sewing in high school is elective for which they get credit. Much of the work must be done at home because of the lack of machines and time needed. The work is more advanced both in construction, fitting and materials used. Accessories are given an important place in the high school course and originality in the use of materials for these is fostered and encouraged.

There is still much to be desired in the High School home economics course. More time and better sewing equipment would help, but also the introduction of cooking would fill a long needed requirement in the school. It is to be hoped that this need might soon be filled.

Report of Mr. Wilmar H. Ela, Supervisor of Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts course in the High School consists of mechanical drawing and general woodwork. Each of these subjects is offered to the high school boys as an elective course and must be taken two full periods per week.

The boys taking mechanical drawing are taught freehand sketching of machine problems, orthographic projection of parts of machines and woodwork problems (working drawings), isometric drawing (picture views) of practical problems, inking, tracing, blueprinting, and blueprint reading.

High School boys construct practical projects for the home, farm or school in the woodworking classes. The correct construction procedures are taught during each phase of the work, while the proper rules governing the use of power saws, drills, lathes and other machines are taught during the process of manufacture.

The Junior High School boys have classes in woodwork and in home mechanics. In the woodworking classes boys in the seventh grade are taught the fundamentals in the use of hand tools and proper construction procedures while making projects for the home. The eighth grade boys progress according to their ability. Boys in the Junior High School are taught the safe procedure in the use of simple power machines.

Home mechanics is devoted to teaching boys to be "handy men" around the home. The understanding and repairing of electric cords, replacing broken windows, installation of simple bell signals, and furniture repairing are a few of the subjects covered in this course.

Report of Miss Katherine M. Bowe, Supervisor of Music

Music has proven itself to be a vitally important factor both as a mental and a moral builder. Thus, my aim has been to instill a love for and appreciation of good music in the minds of even the youngest child.

Rote songs are taught in the first and second grades to develop pitch, rhythm, and melodic consciousness. The second grades use books after a few months, to familiarize them with the coordination of words and notes.

From the third through the sixth grades the basic fundamentals and theories of music are imparted gradually.

The seventh and eighth grades have music twice a week; three-part singing, plus a knowledge of harmony and appreciation is added.

Freshman chorus is held third period every Wednesday for the first half term after which time the seniors use the period to prepare for graduation. A selected Glee Club of 75 girls' voices rehearses every Tuesday for one period. More difficult four-part music is used and the girls make every effort to do the work correctly from a musical standpoint. Their appearance at graduation shows, both by the smooth blending of voices and correct interpretation that they have a better understanding of the art of Music.

Report of Mrs. Genevieve Bernie, Supervisor of Art

The elementary grade art curriculum consists of teaching the fundamentals of color harmony, design, and the recognition of the correct proportions of the human figure, animals and buildings. Our media here is crayon.

In the junior high school the art work is more individualized and we are able to further our study in color harmony, lettering and principals of design on a more advanced scale.

Colorful reproductions of the old masters are carefully selected to suit the interests of pupils from the first through the eighth grade which they enjoy and appreciate.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to Miss Leary for her splendid cooperation and untiring effort to maintain our high standard of work in art in the junior high school.

In the high school, our time is very limited and we are unable to accomplish as much as I would like; however, we covered advanced color study, design and lettering. Much interest is shown in photography coloring since the knowledge and experience gained may confidently be applied toward a practical means. We have some fine pastels which the pupils enjoy using and with which they produced some splendid pictures.

For Christmas we hope to stencil scarves, ties and handkerchiefs and block print our own cards.

Report of Dr. Arthur A. Brown, School Physician

Since the opening of schools in September the several school buildings have been visited and the annual examination of the pupils has been completed in the grades. The junior high school pupils are now being examined, and the pupils in the high school will be examined in the near future.

High school pupils who are engaged in athletics were given a special examination.

In June, an examination of pre-school children was given in the Burbank, Union, Dorothy Manor and East Millbury Schools. These examinations were well attended and a large percentage of defects found in these examinations were remedied before the children entered school in September.

Report of Miss May A. Stafford, R. N., School Nurse

The School Health program continued throughout the year with good results, and the health of our children has been excellent. We had the usual number of chickenpox, measles and whooping cough cases, and scattered cases of scarlet fever, but no serious outbreaks. One case of Acute Poliomyelitis was reported.

The routine work of inspections for infectious diseases and uncleanness was done at the opening of school.

The physical examinations will soon be finished. The predominating defects are diseased tonsils and carious teeth. The foot examination has uncovered a number of cases of arch trouble—some only very slight. The parents have been very cooperative, and shoes with a good arch are being purchased.

Clinics

Pre-school

Four pre-school clinics were held in May and June and all were well attended. The parents' presence at these clinics gives the doctor an excellent opportunity to explain about the defects found.

Dental

The dental clinic, sponsored by the Board of Health and in charge of Dr. M. M. Hennebery, is held once a week. We are grateful to Dr. Hennebery for the use of his office and equipment. Twenty-three clinics were held and the following work was completed:

Permanent fillings	239
Prophylaxis	55
Treatments	10
Examinations	250
Extractions—permanent teeth	3
Extractions—temporary teeth	14

Hearing

The audiometer has been loaned to us by the State Department and is being used at this time. Every pupil from the third grade through the high school will have this test, and the parents will be notified of any hearing defect.

Vision

The annual vision test has been given and all cases where defective vision was found either have their glasses or are waiting for treatment. The eyeglass fund that is available each year for the benefit of those who cannot afford the treatment we advise is very helpful. Six children have had their eyes examined by a specialist and fitted to glasses.

Considerable time has been given to the reporting of cases, and finding ways and means of helping our handicapped children. At present all our children are attending school. We have two cardiac cases who may not be able to continue classes through the term; however, these children will receive home instruction. A speech clinic held at the City Hospital in Worcester is attended by twelve of our children. This clinic has been very much needed, and those attending are being helped.

Two girls were x-rayed and selected to spend eight weeks at Sterling Health Camp. Both gained weight and learned the value of good health habits. The sale of Christmas seals and pins made this possible.

Throughout the year the regular routine work goes on, such as making home visits, personal interviews, inspections, giving first aid, excluding sick children who either come to school ill or who become ill at school. A constant check-up is made of heads and this condition has improved.

The teachers have done excellent work, reporting children who have been absent and those who show signs of illness. By reporting such cases, it has helped to prevent the spread of disease.
